FURNISH STONE FOR JEFFERSON MEMORIAL

Interest in the monument which it is proposed to erect in Richmond to the memory of Joseph Jefferson is growing steadily. People all over the country who admired the great actor are anxious to see his memory honored. Mr. Wortham yesterday received the following very gratifying letter:

Mount Pleasant, Stafford Co., Va., June 14, 1905.
Hon. T. M. Wortham, Richmond, Va.
Dear Friend:—I enclose by the papers of your city that you are at the head of the friends of our late Joseph Jefferson, of theatrical notoriety, to erect a suitable monument in the city of Richmond, Va., to his memory. I am willing to give you the right to send your workmen down to my stone quarry, on the Aquia Creek, a half mile above the railroad bridge, and get and dress all the stone you may need for the foundation, etc., for said monument. This I give free of all cost; you can freight it to your city by railroad, free of freight, I presume.

Yours with great respect and fraternal feelings,
(Signed) JOHN NEWTON HARPER.
P. S.—In my youth I have been on the stage with our mutual friend, Joseph Jefferson, and knew him well. He was a good man and a gentleman.

His Arm in a Sling.

United States Marshal Morgan Treat is always in a hurry. As a consequence he is now carrying his arm in a sling. While attempting to board a moving car at Fourteenth and Main Streets, he missed his foot on the paving blocks. Much of his weight was caught on his left elbow and forearm, and it is temporarily an incumbrance rather than a help to him.

JUDGE MAUN AT BARTON HEIGHTS

He and Messrs. Wickham and Gardner Speak There.

RAISE MONTAGUE BANNER

One is Hoisted on Cary Street. Local Meetings Held.

Judge William Hodges Mann addressed a meeting of ladies and gentlemen at Barton Heights last night in the interest of his candidacy for Governor, and apparently made a good impression. Judge T. Ashby Wickham and Hon. Thomas W. Gardner, who are running for the State Senate, also made speeches, but both of them were quite brief in their remarks.

Mr. S. P. Jones called the meeting to order at 8:15 o'clock and presented Judge Mann in a very happy speech. Judge Mann discussed his platform at some length, and declared that he stood for good roads, an improvement in the public school system and for the single book list. The speaker devoted some time to a discussion of the Mann liquor law, and pointed out some of the benefits which, he claimed, had accrued to the people of the State as a result of its passage.

Judge Mann's speech was on a high plane, and he did not once refer to either of his opponents in any uncomplimentary manner. In closing he asked his hearers to give due consideration to his claims, and to vote for him if they should, after deliberation, deem him worthy of the honor. Judge Mann was loudly cheered when he resumed his seat, and Messrs. Wickham and Gardner followed in brief speeches.

The Montague Banner.

One of the commercial sections of Cary Street, lying between Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets, is known in Richmond as the "Montague stronghold," and yesterday evening at 8:30 o'clock admiring friends of the Governor on the block stretched a banner across the street bearing his portrait on either side.

There were no ceremonies in the way of public speaking, though the Governor had been invited to be present, and was only prevented by previous engagements. There were, however, quite a large number of enthusiastic Montague men present, and they cheered the raising of the standard of their favorite.

Just as the banner was stretched from the top of the store of Messrs. William Jenkins and Son to that of Messrs. Robinson and Company, Mr. C. E. Snyder, a hand-car and was thrown heavily on the paving blocks. Much of his weight was caught on his left elbow and forearm, and it is temporarily an incumbrance rather than a help to him.

Mr. Wyatt Ill.

Police Officer William H. Wyatt and his wife are both ill at their home, and are threatened with typhoid fever, though Dr. Marvin E. Nuckols, who is attending them, said last night that he had not yet been able to determine fully their trouble.

The illness of Mr. Wyatt at this time is a source of deep regret to his friends, inasmuch as it breaks in upon his canvass for high constable at a critical period. Mr. Wyatt's sickness will, however, in the popular view of the case, lose him but few votes, as his friends are actively at work on his behalf while he is sick.

Revive Old Dominion.

It looks as if the Old Dominion Democratic Club is coming back to life, a very healthy meeting having been held there last night.

The meeting was presided over by Councilman Morgan R. Mills and Mr. C. Manning acted as secretary. The candidates were out in full force, and all the speeches were well received. Mr. Ordway Puller, who is running for the House, made a fine impression, and was heartily cheered.

Other House candidates, all of whom were accorded the full share of applause, were as follows: Messrs. Cox, Skipwith, Peyton, Glenn and Powers. Messrs. Anderson and Ahlstedt advocated their respective claims for the Senate, and the following candidates for Commonwealth's attorney spoke: Messrs. Wallace, James, Harwood and George E. Wise.

Mr. J. H. Redwood represented Mr. Garrison, and Councilman Griggs Mr. Wyatt for high constable.

The gold star, the highest honor conferred in the class, was won by Miss Edna Gordon for proficiency in instrumental music.

Mr. Krousse Retires.

The City Democratic Committee met last night, and beyond electing Mr. C. E. Brooks to succeed Mr. J. J. Mitchell as a member of the body from Clay Ward, did practically nothing except to allow Mr. John Krousse to withdraw his name as a candidate for the nomination for high constable. The committee also voted to return Mr. Krousse his money.

It was freely stated by members of the committee that Mr. Krousse has effected an arrangement by which he will be a deputy to Mr. Garrison if the latter shall be again nominated and elected, and that this is his reason for retiring.

WON THE HONORS.

Pupils of Mrs. Tucker's School Have Successful Year's Work.

The closing exercises of Mrs. J. C. Tucker's music class were held Wednesday night at 8:30 at Ferguson's Hall. Pupils for improvement were awarded Julia Eames, Irene Smith, Margaret Richardson, Annie Richardson, May Lowe, Louise Reams, Thilo Henshel, Mary Henshel, Mary Parson, Mary Gentry, Nannie Tiller, Louise Phelps, Celcia Gentry, Maggie O'Neil, Bertha Schlessor, Norvell Lipscomb, Edith Myers, Julia Jones.

Budgets for attendance were won by Louise Reams, Louise Phelps, Annie Richardson, Mary Gentry, Bertha Schlessor, Mary Purcell, Margaret Richardson and Maggie O'Neil.

The class plan, a gold harp, given for the best average made during the nine months' session for general improvement, was awarded to Miss Blanche Robins.

The gold star, the highest honor conferred in the class, was won by Miss Edna Gordon for proficiency in instrumental music.

The most exciting match of yesterday afternoon was that for the ladies' championship, between Miss Evans and Mrs. Williams.

Miss Evans won the first set 6-2; Mrs. Williams the second, 6-4. The third set was very hotly contested, the score gradually crawling up to four all. It looked as if it would go to four all, as neither player seemed to be able to secure the points to win her fifth game. Finally Miss Evans won the game and also the next game, giving her the third set and the match.

In the doubles, the result was somewhat unexpected. Swan and Pollard defeated Mann and Coke in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5, 6-3.

In class 2, men's singles, Blair defeated Tyler in the finals, 6-0, 4-6, 6-2, and in class 3, Winston defeated Crawford, 9-7, 4-8, 7-5.

FOR LADIES AND ESCORTS.

One Evening Each Week Reserved for Them at Skating Rink.

The management of the big skating rink at the Reservoir has decided to reserve one evening each week exclusively for ladies and their escorts on the floor from 8:30 to 10:30, when no gentleman will be admitted to the floor unless accompanied by ladies.

The matinee, from 4 to 7 every afternoon, are especially for ladies, and to the price of skating will be only ten cents. The admission is free to all.

With a view of providing proper amusement for all, and at the same time protection for those who are learning, and those who wish to try fancy skating without being interrupted, the management has decided to mark the rink with lines around the arena, and a large sign will advise all skaters to observe the ring. That means for general skating to keep between the mark and the railing around the arena, while the fancy skaters will have that section of the floor between the judges' stand and the entrance. That section between the judges' stand and the skates will be reserved for learners, where they will be free from interruption from the more experienced skaters.

Fifty more pairs of all steel ball bearing skates were ordered yesterday by telephone to arrive at the rink at once, to meet the anxious to skate or learn.

Stoneburner Case Argued.

In the United States Circuit Court yesterday afternoon the case of Stoneburner vs. the Universal Savings and Trust Company, which has been on the docket for several years, was argued and submitted to the court. Decision reserved. Judge A. L. Holladay appeared for the receivers and Attorney Mitchell, of Newport News for Stoneburner. The case grows out of the insolvency of the company.

Struck in Eye By Rifle Shot.

Hunter, the little son of Major F. T. Sutton, of the firm of Sutton and Company, was struck in the eye by a shot from an air rifle Wednesday afternoon. One of the boys' playmates fired the air rifle from a distance. Dr. Davidson is treating the wound and hope to save the eye.

POSTPONE FOREST HILL CASE

Mr. Bernard Robertson Becomes a Benedict—Other Manchester Items.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch.

Mr. James Moore, of the firm of Moore Brothers, in the city, has received two flattering offers, one from New York and the other from Baltimore, within the past week, asking him to join theatrical troupes. He is yet undecided whether he will accept either of the offers.

As a comedian, Mr. Moore ranks among the very best, and has had considerable experience before the footlights. He has a rich tenor voice and does a dancing specialty that is considered above the average.

GARY-ROBERTSON.

Mr. Bernard Robertson, a very popular young man of the city, and Miss Elsie Carter Gary, of Swansboro, were married last night at the home of the bride, in Swansboro. On account of the recent death of the father of the groom, the marriage was a quiet affair, and only intimate friends and relatives of the couple being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson will reside in Manchester.

Assembly Meets To-night.

The City Assembly to-night will transact matters of great interest to many citizens. The question of an appeal from the decision of the Mayor relative to the executive's construction of the ordinance regulating the sale of fresh meats will be discussed, and it is said now that, as a precautionary measure, the lower branch will change the phraseology of the ordinance, so that there can be no misconception placed upon it.

At present the ordinance says that butchers shall pay a license of $25. In another place the ordinance prohibits any most dealer from killing in the city. The dealers in fresh meats are claiming that the city has no right to tax them as butchers when they are forced to have their killing done in the country.

Married in Washington.

A marriage of interest to many in Manchester was that in Washington yesterday, when Miss Myrtle Fore became the bride of Mr. Blair Overton, formerly a resident of Manchester, but now living in Baltimore. The marriage was a surprise to all the friends of the couple.

Mr. Overton is a brother of Mr. Dibrill Overton, of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, and a nephew of Special Officer Overton. He lived in Manchester for a long time and is well and popularly known by many.

Again Continued.

On account of business at Chesterfield Circuit Judge Gregory, County Clerk, the wealth's attorney, asked and was allowed a continuance of the cases against Edward Wood and James and John Baughman, charged with attempted blackmail at Forest Hill Park. The cases were to have been heard yesterday morning before Judge Squire L. W. Cheatham.

Mr. Harry Smith, counsel for the three young men, urged a speedy trial, but it was impossible for Judge Gregory to be present, and Squire Cheatham postponed the trial until the 23d. By that time, it is thought, both sides will be ready to go into the case. Despite the order of the court that the room would be cleared of all persons except those having business there, a large crowd had congregated yesterday morning, all eager to hear the testimony of the two sides.

Personals and Briefs.

Mrs. Margaret Brooks has returned to her home, after a visit to her son, Mr. S. J. Brooks, of Williamsburg.

The ladies of Central Methodist Church will give a sacred concert at the church next Tuesday night. An elaborate programme is being arranged for the occasion.

The funeral of Mrs. E. B. Foster was conducted from the home yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Interment was made in Maury Cemetery.

FOR EARLY CLOSING.

The Cohen Company Heartily Endorse the Movement.

The movement looking to an agreement among the Broad Street dry goods merchants to close their stores during the summer months is gaining strength. Messrs. J. B. Mosby and Company declared themselves as heartily in favor of the movement in a letter printed in the Times-Dispatch, and the Cohen Company yesterday published a letter in similar vein. In this they say:

"The dry goods business has made a great departure from the old business conditions of a few years ago. During the summer months, and the employment of male help principally. There is now no absolutely dead season, and over 90 per cent of the help is of the physically weaker sex, and the long hours and heavy work tell on them. This statement will, we hope, be sufficient hint for the general public who will, perhaps, at first, be slightly inconvenienced by the 5 o'clock closing.

We do not know of any act looking to the amelioration of the condition of workwomen which is more worthy or humane than to close every day, except Saturday, during the summer months, at 5 o'clock, and let the Saturday closing be decided by the majority, to be either 6 or 7 o'clock, although, for ourselves, we would prefer the 5 o'clock closing, hour for every day, including Saturday.

There was a typographical error in the letter of Messrs. J. B. Mosby and Company, printed yesterday, making it appear that they proposed to close at 10 o'clock, as the hour of closing on Saturday. It should have read 5 o'clock.

THEIR WORK IS OVER.

City District Schools Close for the Session.

Children attending the city district schools were made happy yesterday, when the sessions of all these institutions closed.

The pupils will now have a season of rest and recreation until next September, when they will begin afresh.

The session, which has been a most successful one, from every point of view, and the teachers and principals all appear happy over net results.

Custom Increasing.

The estimated customs collections for the fiscal year ending June 30th, will be about $76,000, a slight increase over last year. The coming new fiscal year which begins July 1st, promises a still larger increase in duties, as the Richmond business men appreciate the fact that they should import direct, as it is less trouble, and at the same time build up the port.

The importations coming into Richmond embraces almost all classes of merchandise, and are from nearly all the countries of the earth. They embrace principally whiskey, chinaware, wine, twine, maiting, cigars, apollinaris water, glassware and grass seeds.

Taylor-Taylor.

Mr. John R. Taylor, of Brunswick county, and Miss Nannie J. Taylor, of Richmond, were quietly married at the Randolph Street Baptist parsonage, Thursday night at 8 o'clock by the Rev. V. E. Robertson, pastor of the Randolph Street Baptist Church.

The bride was neatly attired in white organdy. She is a sister of Mrs. R. Polndexter, of No. 402 West Clay Street. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Polndexter.

The bride and groom will go to their future home in Brunswick county.

PROTECT OFFICERS OF RICHMOND CITY

Street Committee Votes to Stand By City Engineer—Other Municipal Meetings.

The Street Committee yesterday afternoon voted in favor of a resolution protecting the city engineer and his assistants from liability in suits where they have been guilty of no negligence in the matter of furnishing grades to contractors for streets and alleys, and the construction of buildings.

The matter came up on a question of grading certain streets in Lee District, and the precaution was taken because recently there was a judgment against one of the assistant engineers, because it was alleged he had given a citizen the wrong grade in some building matter.

The remainder of the work of the Street Committee was routine in its nature.

The Grounds and Building Committee met at 8 o'clock and disposed of routine business relating mainly to bills and payrolls.

The Committee on Light failed of a quorum, and decided to meet Monday night to take up the question of the size of the pipe line from the present gas works to the proposed new gas holder in the West End. The members present heard informally the contractors on the matter, but no action could be taken.
